Year 2000 Status

Wang has no reason to believe that these products are date aware, or that they have any year 2000 issues. However, Wang has not tested these products for compliance and has no plans to do so.

There are no current plans to provide any future releases of these products. The products are offered as-is, without any year 2000 warranty, to meet a specified customer need for a VS 2110 terminal emulator.

Other Status

The desktop products are known to work on systems using currently available releases of:
Microsoft DOS
Microsoft Windows and Windows 95
some Macintosh environments.

There are no plans to provide enhanced releases for future releases of DOS or Windows. There are no plans for future Macintosh support, specifically on new Macintosh hardware platforms.
